

RESTORED!

Tina Weiss Back in the Arms of Her Joyful Mother.

"THE EVENING WORLD" PROMISED IT.

Home Again After a Separation of Nearly a Year and a Half.

Here is a Confession of the Unjustness of the Children's Law.

And a Powerful Plea for the Amendment Offered by "The Evening World."

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.
[Drafted by a well-known Supreme Court Justice.]
All proceedings under this section (Sec. 221), Chapter 100, Laws of 1911, shall be subject to the provisions of the Children's Law, and the provisions of the Children's Law shall be subject to the provisions of this section.

Tina Weiss has been returned.

Once more the long-separated mother and child are united.

Mamma Weiss is happy. Papa Weiss is joyful. Six-year-old little Sara Weiss is running over with joy, and Tina is full of gladness at returning to her mother and sister.

The Evening World's bureau for this last victory of its arms in behalf of human rights, and in defense of the little ones and their parents against a bad law.

A messenger carried the news to Mr. and Mrs. Weiss in their Broom street house yesterday afternoon that Tina was in town and an Evening World representative visited the offices of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children at Fourth avenue and Twenty-third street.

The doors leading to the sanctum-sanctorum of Mr. Jenkins were tightly closed, and the naturally affable and pleasant young man at the desk in the outer room was forced to play a ruse not his by nature. He told the reporter that he was not allowed to inform him nor the Weisses as to Miss Tina.

Then Mrs. Weiss, whose face wore an expression of doubt, anxious hope, was led into the rear room. Five minutes later her daughter, Tina Weiss, came out, looking like a queen, and after another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

After another five minutes Mr. Jenkins, who had been waiting for her, came out, looking like a king.

PHILADELPHIA'S BLAZE.

A Big Fire in Progress in the Quaker City.

An Explosion That Helped the Fire Fiend.

The Loss Likely to Be Very Heavy, but No One Knows How Much.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 19.—A tremendous conflagration broke out in the business center of the city before 10 o'clock this morning. It is now raging furiously.

The flames were first discovered in the wholesale tailor's trimmings establishment of Rudolph Blankenburg, the well-known political reformer, No. 13 Bank street.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but an explosion followed immediately after the discovery of the flames.

The building was a solid six-story structure and extended from Bank to Strawberry streets, two small but business thoroughfares between Chestnut and Market and Second and Third streets.

An instant after the explosion, which occurred in the basement, the whole building was a roaring mass of fire extending to the roof and baffling the firemen in their work.

Both streets are built up with large commercial houses, and each is stored with valuable goods.

About fifteen minutes after the breaking out of the fire the flames had spread to the opposite side of Strawberry street.

The big linen and white-goods houses of Donald & Co. and of M. J. Kelly had taken fire.

Immediately the firemen turned their attention to this portion of the conflagration.

After a hard fight they got the fire here under control.

The buildings, however, were badly burned, and the goods were almost wholly destroyed.

Meanwhile the flames were making ravages on Bank street.

The building, No. 11, occupied by Thompson, Faust & Co., jobbers in notions and knit jackets, and the big structure, No. 15, occupied by Campion & Co., blankets, which adjoins Blankenburg's building were now burning.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

ANDREWS MUST GO

Assemblyman Fish Introduces a Resolution to That Effect.

It Calls for Prompt Action from the Capitol Trustees.

ALBANY, Feb. 19.—In the Assembly this morning, Mr. Hamilton Fish introduced a resolution, which, after reciting that there had been great mismanagement in the construction of the ceiling, went on as follows:

Resolved, That the attention of the Trustees of the Capitol, consisting of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker, is hereby respectfully called to the report of the Committee of Experts, and said trustees are requested to suspend the Architect Charles B. Andrews, Superintendent of Public Buildings, pending further investigation and until final action by the House.

Mr. Sheehan said he was in favor of the resolution. He hoped that Supt. Andrews would be suspended.

He was not sure whether the Capitol Commissioners could remove Mr. Andrews without any further action but if they could he certainly would not oppose a motion calling upon them to do so.

It was evident that the resolution would cause a debate of some time, and so, under the rules, it went over until to-morrow.

There is now no doubt of its passage, if, indeed, by that time the Commissioners have not already removed Mr. Andrews or he has not joined the American colony in Canada.

POLITICAL ROWING IN THE SIXTEENTH.

Tammany Men Aiding to Disturb the Harmony of Justice Power's Organization.

There is the liveliest kind of a political row going on in the Sixteenth Assembly District, in which both the Tammany Hall and County Democracy organizations are engaged.

Kaufman Worms, interpreter for the Sixth District Civil Court, is the nucleus of the scrimmage, and stands a fair chance of having his official breath squeezed out.

The Sixteenth District is Police Justice Maurice J. Power's own, and Worms is one of the County Democracy chieftains' first lieutenants.

For twelve years he has held the position of court interpreter under County Democracy Justice, receiving $100 a month for the slight official services he rendered, but perhaps earning it by the assistance he gave in promoting his benefactor's political schemes.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

Like a word many other County Democratic headquarters, however, Mr. Worms has read the signs of the times in the recent election and has realized that Tammany Hall is the organization for whom office-holders to be to.

It was accordingly very easy for Assemblyman Edward P. Hazen to prevail upon him to stand as his candidate for the Presidency.

HARTFORD'S HORROR.

More Bodies Taken from the Hotel's Ruins To-Day.

Three Hundred Rescuers Still at Work on the Debris.

Mr. Pendleton, Reported Among the Missing, Turns Up Alive in New Haven.

HARTFORD, Feb. 19.—The horror caused by the destruction of the Park Central Hotel and the accompanying loss of life has by no means subsided.

Around the heap of smoking ruins there are still great crowds of men, women and boys, among whom are many whose friends or relatives are missing or supposed to be buried in the debris.

The Fire Department has been tireless in its exertions, and aided by gangs of laborers from the Street-Cleaning Department, has taken away load after load of the fallen bricks and mortar, to facilitate the work of rescue.

The 300 workmen quit their labors at 2 o'clock this morning, but at 7 o'clock were again at their noble work.

From 9 o'clock last night to 2 this morning four bodies were recovered, Max Galady and wife and A. F. Whiting and wife.

This makes eighteen bodies recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Whiting were horribly burned and were only identified after a long time. Mrs. Whiting's head had been severed, but a portion of her long, black hair made the identification complete.

The head waiter reported yesterday that Pendleton was in the hotel Sunday afternoon, and was probably in the ruins.

In the afternoon a message from New Haven stated that Pendleton was in that city, and this is corroborated by the following letter, which was received at the Times office to-day:

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 18.—The papers of this morning record me as among the missing victims of the heartrending disaster that fell upon Hartford on Sunday night last.

This morning, pending the adjournment of your Legislature, I thought I would utilize my leisure by writing you a few lines to let you know that I am still alive.

I have endured shipwreck, famine and the horrors of a winter in the open air, but I am free to confess that I am off my base to-day.

After this I am sure you will be glad to hear that I am among the unforgotten victims. Respectfully yours, H. C. PENDLETON.

At noon two additional bodies were taken from the Park Central Hotel, both badly burned. One was positively identified as Dr. Lavoletti Perrin and the other is believed to be Mrs. Perrin.

Two other bodies were then in sight and being taken out.

Following is a list of the dead and missing: THE KILLED.

BEUL, DEWIGHT H., aged fifty, jeweler, Main street, Hartford. He was probably asphyxiated to death, although the body is badly contorted and scorched. His hands were found sufficiently well preserved to enable the coroner to identify him.

ENGEL, J. GEORGE, aged twenty-nine, prescription clerk in the drug store of A. Marwick, Jr., & Co., 101 North Main street, Hartford. He was killed by a falling beam of the hotel, which fell upon him. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

GAZER, GEORGE, colored, night porter of the hotel, 101 North Main street. His head was terribly crushed and his body mangled.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HILL, J. C., Buffalo, N. Y. Such, at least, was the name of the man who was killed. He was a traveling salesman, and was in Hartford on business. He was a popular young man, and was a member of the Young Men's Christian Association.

EXTRA

2 O'CLOCK.

HOW DID SHE DIE?

Mystery Surrounding the Death of Mary Ann McLaughlin.

The Police Report that There Are Suspicious Circumstances.

A Coroner Requested to Make an Investigation.

The police of the Thirty-seventh street station have just telegraphed to Police Headquarters that Mary Ann McLaughlin, aged forty years, was found dead this morning at 521 West Twenty-eighth street.

They think that there are suspicious circumstances surrounding her death, and requested that a Coroner be sent there at once.

The Coroner's office has been notified. BRUTAL TREATMENT OF A SEAMAN.

Maltreated Till He Died—The Kuflynn Mate and Captain Sentenced.

MONTREAL, Feb. 18.—A despatch to the Gazette from St. John's, N. F., tells of one of the most barbarous cases of ill-treatment to a seaman ever recorded.

The full story did not come out until the trial of Capt. Stark and Mate Rigby, of the schooner Clara, of Plymouth, England, began.

Charles Hookey was the abused seaman. The first attack was made upon him a week out from Bristol by the captain because he uttered false tales.

Hookey was put on a diet of bread and water for many days. An abscess formed from a wound in the ear, which became fearfully swollen. With starvation and savage beatings, he soon became weak and idiotic.

"The beatings," said one witness, "were almost every time he came on deck. The captain pulled him along the deck on his bare knees and jumped on him with his heavy boots, having iron heels.

"After that he sat on him and hammered his head on the deck, and Hookey cried out, 'Oh, Lord, have mercy on me.'"

"He was four or five days without water. The white foam was coming from his lips."

Hookey died at sea, about thirty-five miles off St. John's.

Notwithstanding the absolutely unimpeachable evidence of eye-witnesses, the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter, and the Judge sentenced the captain and mate to only five years' imprisonment each, with hard labor. It was proven that the mate, Rigby, had ill-treated Hookey equally as brutally as the captain.

WHO WROTE THE LETTERS AND ARTICLES? More Than One Believed to Have Had a Hand in the Work.

BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. LONDON, Feb. 19.—In the Parnell Commission to-day Mr. Finch-Hatton was summoned before the Court for contempt.

The cross-examination of Mr. Macdonald, manager of the Times, was continued. Many inconsistencies in his testimony were brought out, seriously weakening the Times' case.

The witnesses were asked to give the names of the persons who wrote the articles on "Parnellism and Crime," as many are now said to have had a hand in the work.

He declined to give up the names of contributors to the letters and articles. It was contrary to the policy of the Times to make public the names of its writers.

Judge Hannen said that nevertheless the names must be given. The privilege of a newspaper could not prevail against the law of the land.

Houston, who obtained the Parnell letters from Pictou, asserts that two of them came from Mrs. Mullett. They were found among her husband's papers.

SWALLOWED HER TEETH.

Forced to Do So to Prevent Choking—Entertainer to Be Tried to Save Her Life.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Feb. 19.—Miss Mary Green, living on State street, partly swallowed a portion of her false teeth yesterday during luncheon.

The plate became fractured while masticating the leg of a partridge, and the gold fragments, with two of her teeth, lodged in her throat.

Dr. Downs was summoned. He, with other medical assistance, were unable to extricate the obstacle, and, consequently, to prevent the patient from strangling to death, forced the teeth down.

This morning Miss Green is suffering from internal inflammation, and the physicians attempt to remove the teeth by performing a tracheotomy.

Denver Bank Burglars Sought Here.

Chief of Police Brady, of Denver, was at Police Headquarters this morning in consultation with Inspector Byrne. It is understood that he is searching for "Little Horace" Hovey and Sheridan, the well-known burglars and bank thieves, who made a desperate attempt to break into the cashier of a Denver bank and made their escape.

Veteran Boniface Marches Very Ill.

Head of March, formerly of the Union Square Hotel, now proprietor of the Arno Hotel, Broadway and Twenty-eighth street, is lying dangerously ill at his hotel of a complication of Bright's disease and paralysis. Mr. March has been in hotel business in New York for forty years.

Accident at the Standard Theatre.

Louis Likewise, a scene-shifter at the Standard Theatre, fell from a ladder while at work on the stage this morning and received severe internal injuries. He was taken to the New York Hospital. He lives at Eighteenth street and First avenue.